COMMERCIAL AFFAIRS.

Friday, Dec. 28-6 P. M. There was almost a panie to-day among holders of Reading Railroad stock. The sales were to an enormous extent, the aggregate at both boards being about five thousand shares, at a decline in price of % per cent from those current at the close yesterday. It was reported in the street that there was a collapse among the Philadelphia bulls—that some of them had gone beyond their depth, and had disappeared. If this is true, it is unfortunate for the bears, as they will find their contracts of no value when they mature. In selling fancy stocks, operators have to run a great risk, and any great depreciation is sure to carry down some of the weaker purchasers. As regards Reading Railroad, everything we have predicted has been realized, and those which have not yet come round, are rapidly approaching the culminating point. Prices have not yet become so much reduced as we anticipated, but that is merely a matter of time. Within the past two weeks there has been a decline of six per cent, and the tendency is still downward. At the first board, to-day, Canton Co. fell off 34 per cent; Harlem, M; North American Trust advanced M per cent, and fell back M. closing M per cent less than prices current at the close yesterday. There has been no decision yet of the suit in which the stockholders and bondhelders of this company are so deeply interested; but speculators are purchasing largely, confident that a further advance will be realized. It is a fair rick for those having a taste for such a game, but it is nothing more or less than a lettery. If the decision is in favor of the stockholders, the stock may advance several per cent; but if it is in favor of the bondholders, the stock will not be worth a cent. At the second board, this stock fell off to 14. showing a difference of 1 per cent in the extreme prices to-day.

The Seventh Ward Bank has declared a semi-annual dividend of four per cent, payable on the 2d of January. The Bank of Commerce has declared a semi-annual dividend of four per cent, payable the 7th of January. The Tradesmen's Bank has declared a semi-annua dividend of two dellars and fifty cents per share, pay able the 2d of January.

The Albany and Schenectady Railroad Company hav declared a semi-annual dividend of three and a half

The Boston and Lowell Railroad have declared a di eidend of four per cent. The New England Worsted Company have declared a dividend of five per cent. The Appleton Manufacturing Company have de-elared a dividend of three per cent; and the Lowell Manufacturing Company, twenty dollars per share.

The arrival of the Cambria at Halifax, from Liverpool, gives us two weeks later intelligence from all parts of Europe. There had been an advance of 16 of a penny per pound on cotton, with moderate sales, and slight improvement in prices for breadstuffs. In the money market, or in quotations for stocks, there had been no change. This is about all the news the steamer brings.

The receipts of the Michigan Central Railroad Company, for the year ending December 1, 1849, amounted to $600 986 60; and the expenditures, for the same peried, to $290,079 78; net income, $304,906 82. The annexed statement exhibits the receipts of the Little Miami Railroad Company, from freight and pas sergers, in each of the past four years:-

	LITTLE MIAI	MI RAILROAD.
Year.	Passengers.	Freight.	Total.
	$51,150	$64,861	$116,042
1847	90,848	130,295	221,139
1848	144,182	128,440 } Mail 7,512	209,185
1849		158.081 2 Mail 8,500 5	821.398
Thus	it is shown that th	e increase of the	- ceipts of 1849 was 15 per cent over that of 1848, and 95 per cent over that of 1847. In four years time the total receipts have nearly trebled. The capital stock of the company is now about $1,200 000, in round numbers. Something more than $600,000 has been borrowed. The net receipts, after paying expenses, are about $112,000. Deducting from this the interest on loan and there is left an actual profit of 10 per cent on the capital during the last year.

A company was incorporated by the last Legislature of Pennsylvania, for the construction of a railroad from Erie to Pittsburgh, to connect at that point with the great central line through the State of Pennsylvania. Meetings have recently been held at different places along the line, approving of the project, and urging a liberal subscription to the stock. The completion of this read would give Pennsylvania a railroad communication with Lake Erie, and give Philadelphia a command of a portion of the trade of the Western lakes. Erie is a good port on the lake, and could be made a very important outlet for trade from Baltimore and Philadelphia. The Pennsylvania central line of railroad will come into direct competition with all the Northern lines for the Western trade, and tend to divert the transportation of produce from the West to more Southern markets. In the course of two or three years, there will be at least four lines of railroad, extending from three points on the Atlantic, not more than two hundred miles apart, to different sections of the Western country. Competition will then commence and the people at large benefitted by it. Stockholders in these companies may not enjoy the receipt of such large dividends as would be desirable, but producers, consumers, and the laboring classes generally, will be much benefitted by the impetus this rivalry will give to the movements of agricultural products, and to all departments of business. A few stockholders may suffer some; but the country at large will be benefitted.

The recent report of the Old Colony Railroad Company, has come upon the stockholders like a thunder clap, and they have not yet recovered from the actopishment created by the facts presented. The receipts and expenditures in each of the past twe years, have pense; maintenance of way, $20,723, (last year $12,905;) repairs of motive power, $18,569; wood, $44,127; oil. $4,708; salaries and office expenses, $4,700. The capital of the company, as represented by 19,650 shares, at par, is $1.965,000; bonds at five years from January 1, 1849, at par, $328,000; aggregate, $2,293,900. The floating debt is $50,572, which there is each in hand and assets enough to meet. The susplus property, producing little or no income, is estimated at $175,000. This includes the Samoset House, at Plymouth, and certain lands. The cost of the branches of the road bas been as follows: -- Abington and Bridgwater, $129," 668; Dorebester and Milton, $119,663; and South Shore-

The company own the Abington and Bridgewater Brauch, seven and a quarter miles in length, and lease at 6 per cent on the cost of the Dorchester and Milton Railroad, three and a quarter miles long, and the South Shore, extending twelve lines from Braintree to Cohawet. To approximate the true value of a branch, the directors say it is important to ascertain the receipts from passengers and freight passing between the stations on the branch, and stations on the main line An account has been taken of such receipts for the six months ending on the first of October last, which is as $362,700. This is exclusive of equipments.

Colony Railroad Company, a committee of five stockholders was appointed, and charged with the duty of initiality and rigidly investigating the affairs of the corporation, and of ascertaining its liabilities, as well as its property and resources—their value and productiveness—of investigating the past history and ma-nagement of the road—the cause of the great ex-penditures of the corporation—and, in fact, to make a full report of every item connected with the financial and operative management of the company. This committee will report at the next meeting, when we shall probably get at a correct statement of the concern. The Boston and Maine Itailroad Company has passed through a similar investigation and came out purged and purified, and we trust the Old Colony Company will be benefitted in the same way. The management exhibited some sense in emitting a dividend, and perhaps passing three or four more may place the company in a better position few more reports from railroad companies, similar to those made by the Norfolk County and Old Colony, of Massachusetts, and the Harlem Company, of this city, would entirely extinguish what little confidence exists regarding such investments, and prevent the establishment of any new lines, or even the completion of those in the course of construction.

Our St. Louis Correspondence.

Sr. Louis, Dec. 17, 1849. Thirty Thousand Dollars Worth of Property Destroyed by Fire-Persons Injured-Arrival of Count Albert de Montesquiou-Execution of Cassidy.

Quite a destructive fire occurred last night in our city, which, for a time, threatened to be of a far more flames were discovered in the basement story of a large four story building on Locust street, near the Levee, occupied, on its various floors, by some nine or ten firms, principally commission merchants. Among the sufferers were J. H. Alexander & Co., agents for a safe firms, principally commission merchants. Among the sufferers were J. H. Alexander & Co., agents for a safe manufactory in your city. Their loss is put down at some five thousand dollars. Several of these burnt out were severe sufferers by the great fire of May last. The entire loss is probably $50,000, which is partly covered by insurance. The night was intensely cold, and much difficulty was experienced in procuring a supply of water, owing to the freezing of the water in the hose. A strong wind was blowing from the west, and this, while it probably saved the city from another great configeration, at the same time greatly endangered the shipping. The fire being so near the Levee, abeets of dame were carried directly over the closely wedged line of boats lying there. Those in the most danger were immediately unmoored, and were pushed oil from their slarming proximity to the scene of conflagration.

During the fire, a gentleman by the name of Eigin, of your city, was seriourly injured by failing through an open hatchway. Several firemen were injured by the falling of a wall, and some were taken to the hospital, who were said to be fatally hurt.

Our city is fast recovering from the combined effects of fire and pestilence. Nearly all the burnt district has been rebuilt, and prosperity begins to smile again. Notwithstanding the paralyzing effects of the fire of May, and the pestilence, of nearlyselght months continuance, very few persons have found occasion to announce themselves "ruined," in a business point of view. This speaks volumes in favor of our city, as the great internal mart of the West.

Yesterday was announced is one of the papers, tho arrival in this city of poless personage than Count Arthur de Montesquiou, an elder brother of the two unfortunate young men now incareersted in our jall, charged with the murder of Meesrs Jones and Barnum. I am informed that he visited the jall, and that the meeting with his brothers was quite affecting. He left Freis for this country immediately on learning the situat on application to the Supreme Court, for a new trial. So Cassidy is rafe until spring at least.

Interesting from Tampico.— By the arrival here, yesterday, of the schooner Renaissance, Capt. Busson, from Tampico the 8th inst., we have received the Befenser of that city to the 5th inst. Inclusive.

That paper announces that Gen. Canales is to be brought to trial by order of the President of the republic, for the murder of Don Ignacio Flores, whom he captured some time back (August 29) and shot, under the prelence that he was engaged in revolutionary plots against the State of Tamaulipas. The Defenser still continues its attacks on Don J Cardenas, the Governor of Tamaulipas, and Gen. Arista, the Secretary of War, for upholding Canales in the latter's atrocities. Flores, it appears, was, at the breaking out of the war between the United States and Mexico, an extremely rich and estimable individual. When Gen. Taylor was about laying siege to Monterey, Flores lent the government $70.000, which sum was applied to the support of the troops under Gen. Ampudia. He subsequently went to Mexico to reclaim payment, when he was made a general by Santa Anna, in order to induce him to wait the convenience of the government to liquidate the debt. He then accepted a mission to the South, where, under Alvarez, he sates for a while. Unfortunately, he acquired there those revolutionary tendencies which led to his premature death. Canales manifested great ferocity in executing him, and besides, violated a fundamental article of the constitution, by shooting without the forms of a trial. That officer is accused of hurrying the unfortunate Flores to his grave, through the desire to appropriate the money the latter had shout him at the time of his capture, which is said to be $10.000. Flores, although a native of the South, was related by marriage to the principal families of New Leon.—New Orleans Picayune Dec. 19.
